SRS timeline: get as many ideas down as we can before the 3rd, on the 3rd we will resolve conflicts about what the project should be, on the meeting on the 10 we submit

We worked on setting up the SRS documents, laid out the templates, and wrote some ideas in some sections. We agreed that there isn't going to be a strict division of work for each of the sections in the SRS. Instead, we want to let anyone contribute to any parts they have ideas for. The idea for this is so that there wouldn't be a conflict between one section and the other and we can have a more coherent idea written down

Parts of SRS we worked on:
- Title
- Version
- Personnel
- Definition of Functional / Non-Functional Requirement Priority List (P0-P3)
- Table of contents + contributions
- Purpose of the Project

Splitting up work:
- Everyone is free to put down any ideas in any section
- Each person is responsible for the final writeup of one or more sections
- Everyone is responsible to write some functional and non-functional requirements
- We will consider all ideas from everyone and discuss which ones we want to have in next week's meeting.
